

COLLAGE

Collage is often thought of as an archetypally modern artistic technique. The word – from the French verb coller, meaning “to stick” – was first used to describe the Cubist innovations of Pablo Picasso and Georges Braque, who began to stick newspaper cuttings and other materials onto their canvases in 1912.

This assignment focuses on the elements of design through the process of collage making.

Task

- Make two collage works in any way that you would like.
- Pay attention to how different movements produce different styles of collage.
 - Cubism, Constructivism, Dada, or Contemporary.
- Use at least 3-4 elements of design in your work and be prepared to identify them in your work.
